Primary Care Transformation: Educating Leaders Today!

Monday, September 8th 2014

This event is designed to attract education and primary care leaders interested in the future of primary care education in an era of practice transformation. Through a series of planned activities and group discussions, we hope to strengthen our primary care community, generate innovative approaches to combining primary care transformation and education, create networking and mentorship opportunities for our students and residents, and identify concrete steps for moving our work forward.
